MARRY TODAY.

MR. PATRICK H. ATKINSON AND MISS WINNIE DALE

To Wed—Ceremony This Afternoon at the Bride's Home—Both are Quite Popular.

Mr. Patrick Henry Atkinson, a well known and popular telegraph operator employed at the Van Dusen-Ahrens commission house, and Miss Winnie Porter Dale, oldest daughter of Col. Bud Dale, of the county, were licensed to marry today.

The marriage will take place at the home of the bride in the county late this afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will reside in Paducah.

Mr. Atkinson's home is in Raleigh, N. C., but he has been in Paducah for the past year, and has made a host of friends by his excellent qualities.

Miss Dale is very popular in Paducah, where she resided several years with her parents, and is a pretty and charming young lady. The marriage was hastened by the approaching departure of the bride's father and mother for Texas to reside. She was to accompany them, but rather than be separated the young people decided to marry. The ceremony will be performed by the pastor of Palestine church.

The happy couple will have the best wishes of a host of friends.

The marriage of Miss Hattie B. Connor to Mr. Joseph F. Walker took place at noon today at the home of the bride. They left for a bridal trip south.

The marriage of Miss Violet St. John to Mr. Clarence LeRoy will take place at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the home of the bride, on South Sixth street.

There are No Funeral Arrangements as Yet and Won't be Soon Declared.

THE QUEEN DIED OF CANCER, IT SEEMS

London, Jan. 23.—The proclamation of the death of Queen Victoria and the succession of King Edward was issued immediately upon the queen's death by the Premier, Lord Salisbury, and the archbishops of Canterbury, with the sanction of the Privy Council.

It is being made public throughout the realm by the Lord Mayors, the Lord Lieutenants of counties, etc.

THE PROCLAMATION READS:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to call to his mercy our late sovereign lady, Queen Victoria, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decease the imperial crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland is solely and rightfully come to the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward. We therefore, the Lords spiritual and temporal of this realm, being here with those of her late Majesty's Privy Council, with numbers of other principal gentlemen of quality, with the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of London, do now hereby, with one voice and consent of tongue and heart, publish and proclaim that the high and mighty Prince Albert Edward now, by the death of our late sovereign of happy memory, becomes our only lawful and rightful liege Lord Edward by grace of God, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, defender of the faith to whom we acknowledge all faith and constant obedience, with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom kings and queens do reign, to bless our royal King Edward with long and happy years to reign over us."

London, Jan. 23.—The instant that the queen died the Prince of Wales became king, on the principle that the succession never lapses.

Within an hour he was waited on by Marquis Salisbury, the Prime Minister, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, representing state and church. They administered the oath to the new king and the king legally swore to govern his people according to the statutes of Parliament and the laws of the land. He also swore to maintain the laws of God, the true profession of the gospel and to preserve the settlement of the established church.

A few hours later the king received the members of his Privy Council. There are about 150 in number and include all the royal dukes and ministers and prominent nobles.

The queen's death will be proclaimed by the king by regular proclamation and through the official gazette and other channels of state.

London, Jan. 23.—The specific malady from which the queen suffered was of an intestinal character, and it is generally understood that her trouble was of a cancerous nature, which, of course, precluded all hopes of recovery.

It was a malady similar to the one with which the Empress Frederick is afflicted, and it may be remembered that it was a cancerous disease that likewise carried off the Duke of Coburg, second son of the queen, last summer.

for the queen's children and near relatives is that she was spared the agonizing sufferings that are rendering the deathbed of Empress Frederick at Friedrichschoff as much of a lingering martyrdom as the last few months of the life of her husband, Emperor Frederick, for the queen is in a state of complete mental as well as physical collapse. The doctors described it as "extreme physical prostration."

Added to the other ailments of the queen was her almost complete loss of sight, which, dating from last Sunday, caused the famous German oculist, Prof. Pagenstecher, to be summoned in hot haste from Wiesbaden.

London, Jan. 23.—All the morning papers appear in heavy mourning borders, with editorials eulogistic of the dead queen and recalling the leading events and characteristics of her reign. Few political references as to the future are made.

The body of Queen Victoria was embalmed last night and will probably be taken to Windsor Saturday. The coffin arrived last evening from London.

London, Jan. 23.—The king in being sworn into office took the title of Edward VII, King of England and Emperor of India.

All courts are in mourning. There are no funeral arrangements as yet and none will be announced for a day or so.

It is, however, understood, the body will lie in state in London for several days and then find, of course, a resting place in Westminster Abbey, beside the body of her husband, Prince Consort Albert.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The senate yesterday late, after the close of the executive session, on motion, of Senator Allison, adopted the following resolution of sympathy on the death of the queen:

"Resolved, That the death of her royal and imperial majesty, Victoria, of noble virtues and great renown, is sincerely deplored by the senate of the United States."

The president at 3:30 p. m. sent a cable message of condolence to King Edward VII, the contents of which will not, for the present, be given out.

It was decided to accept the information conveyed by the press dispatches, in lieu of official notification from Ambassador Choate, which had not at that time reached the white house.

Social Washington will be seriously affected by the demise of the queen of England, and already arrangements are making to cancel many of the functions scheduled for the balance of the season.

The close marital relations existing between the court of Great Britain and other European powers, will make the death of the queen a family, as well as a political period of mourning.

PROMINENT VISITOR

MR. PAUL F. SEMONIN HERE AT HIS SISTERS' BEDSIDE.

Mr. Paul F. Semonin, of Louisville, and quite a wealthy man, is here at the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Zoe Macleure, of Campbell street, who came near being killed by a switch engine on North Sixth street last week, and lost her right foot as a result of the accident.

Mr. Semonin's son is assessor for Jefferson county, and is to be a candidate for mayor of Louisville.

MADE OVER

Magisterial Jurisdiction Changed by McCracken County's Commissioners.

REPORT FINISHED TODAY

The City Districts Take in 5,000 People, and the County 2,750 People.

THE WORK REQUIRED ONE WEEK

The redistricting committee appointed by Judge Tully several days ago to change the magisterial districts of the county has completed its report, which, duly signed, has been filed in the county court.

The changes were necessitated by the extension of the city limits a few years ago, which extension took in a portion of the districts in the county.

The report of changes formulated by the committee, which had been in session over a week, are quite voluminous, but briefly stated, the changes will be about as follows:

The first magisterial district, presided over by Justice J. C. Sheehan, will extend to Tennessee street, taking in Mechanicsburg.

The third, Justice W. H. Hooks', is extended to Monroe and Seventh, thence to Madison, and out Twelfth to Clay street.

The seventh, Justice Hocker's, is moved to take in everything from Lovelaceville to the Cairo road.

The districts inside the city limits embrace an average population of 5,000 people, and those in the county an average of 2,750 people.

GEORGE SMITH.

HE IS SEEN IN BALLARD BUT NOT CAUGHT.

Mr. Ed C. Terrell, while down near Barlow City, Ballard county, saw George Smith, who has been so badly wanted here on a charge of assaulting Viola Green, a few days ago.

Marshall Collins wrote the sheriff and gave the name of the man for whom Smith was working and all, and has since been patiently waiting for the arrest, but it has not transpired.

It is now thought that Smith discovered Mr. Terrell about the same time Mr. Terrell discovered Smith, and lost no time in getting out of the locality.

DIED OF OLD AGE.

THE MINERS' TROUBLE AT BOXTOWN.

Earlington, Ky., Jan. 23.—After the firing into of the union miners, marching in violation of the sheriff's proclamation, by two deputy sheriffs with a posse of three near Carbondale mines Monday afternoon, the men who had participated in the marching scattered in every direction, and Boxtown, where the mass meeting had been held in the morning, was deserted in a little while. The miners seemed to fear another attack and sought refuge in flight. Sam Chapel, colored, of Indiana; W. B. Kissinger, of Central City, and George Nicholas, colored, of Muhlenberg county, three of the miners who were among the leading spirits in the movement were arrested at Nortoville by Deputy Sheriff Lindale and a posse. Each was armed. These men were given a preliminary hearing before County Judge Hall this morning and were placed under $200 bond each to appear for trial Friday.

POLICE COURT

COAL THIEF FINED FOR THROWING AT THE COAL MAN.

The Mays Case Was Not Ready For Trial This Morning—A Short Docket To-day.

Arthur Brewer and Chas. Mitchell, colored, were presented in Judge Sanders' court this morning on a charge of throwing rocks at Wm. Rosier at the Chesterfield coal company. Brewer pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs and a case for petty larceny was continued until tomorrow, if he repieves his fine, or until he serves it. Mitchell was acquitted, the evidence showing that he was not implicated.

Herbert Holland is the name of a small boy fined not long ago for cutting a big belt at the cordage factory. He thought Alonzo Henderson told on him, and for several weeks had been "laying for him." Day before yesterday he met him and tried to provoke a fight near the Jefferson school, and struck Henderson, who had him arrested. Holland is a very bad boy and Judge Sanders gave him some very good advice, dismissing him with a reprimand.

Will Ashland, colored, for using insulting language towards Mollie Weatherford, was fined $3 and costs.

Leo XIII. is the oldest of the conspicuous personages now alive anywhere in the world. He will be 91 years of age on March 2, 1901.

In the next presidential election New York will have as many votes in the electoral college as Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Ex-President Harrison is as critical a Republican as ex-President Cleveland is a Democrat. Their parties, however, are not injured by their carping, for criticism is very beneficial, no matter its spirit.

A live, progressive and capable mayor is a question of much interest to the people of Paducah. They are. The Sun is pleased to believe, giving the matter due thought, and it is satisfied. A great mistake can be made in a selection.

Prof. Gray, who invented the telephone, is dead. There was a coincidence in the fact that he was perfecting a mode of sound transmission by means of bells beneath the sea and his great invention, the telephone, is the recognized discovery of one Bell, whose name it bears. The bells clearly owe the deceased a much honor.

In the army reorganization bill there is nothing of which any citizen may be afraid, while the general points to be covered for the benefit of the present necessities of the government in the Philippines and elsewhere are provided for. The act is to be taken as the beginning of a more thorough reorganization of the army service which will increase the efficiency of the army establishment and at the same time will make it more popular. Both of these desired ends can in time be accomplished.

Though the Register failed to learn that the queen of England was sick almost unto death for several days it finally learned that she died. The News, however, declared her death near 80 hours before dissolution took place and after death did occur announced she expired 24 hours and over before the sad accident really happened. If papers are so tardy and inaccurate on important events what can the people expect of them on smaller occurrences? If the public wants the news when it is news and desires to keep posted on accurate local, domestic and foreign intelligence they must read The Sun. Its contemporaries can't fill the bill.

The Prince of Wales, as was, is now King Edward VII. of England. The formalities of ascending the throne is the form merely. The death of Queen Victoria made the heir the king in fact. As one of the world's leading crown heads there is greater interest than ever before in the new ruler—greater interest in the king of England than in the Prince of Wales. But as the latter becomes the former—the king is yet but the prince in another role—the personnel of each is the same. The Sun, therefore, devotes some space today to the life of the prince as indicative of the new king's future, thought it may be to change the world, hopes for will come into the life of Edward VII.

Congress doesn't propose to be hoodwinked by the West Pointers' resolution to be good hereafter. The body recalls the fact that resolutions made so near the first of the year are brittle ones and will adjust matters by putting a penalty as a "foot note." Congress, in short, through the committee which has been investigating the country's bad if not its pretending to be soldiers, will recommend the enactment of a statute against hazing, providing for the expulsion of cadets if found guilty of the offense, and debarring them from reappointment or from holding commissions in the army. This decision of the committee will be applauded by all discipline respecters and only criticised, if criticised at all, by the toadies of the land.

There are many reasons, perhaps, why there should be uniform marriage and divorce laws but there are reasons why each state should be allowed to regulate these matters for itself. Admitting that the great institution of marriage is involved it also is to be admitted that if the people of a state are not ready for a certain

KIND OF HUSBAND

I Should Choose For My Daughter.

A CHRISTIAN EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

(By Mrs. Francis E. Clark.)

Is it not a difficult question to ask of one who is spending the greater part of her time in training up future husbands for other people's daughters? As a preliminary step I sent word to half a dozen college girls of my acquaintance, to know what kinds of husbands they would choose, and with one voice they assured me that they did not want any husbands. This put a summary stop to my investigations in that direction, and quite took my breath away. But I do not believe a word of it. I next appealed to my own mother to see what kind of a husband she would have chosen for me.

"My sister," she said, "was once asked, 'If you were required to choose between a Christian man with a quick, bad temper, and a man who made no pretensions to religion, but who was equal in intelligence, position and culture to the other, and whose disposition was known to be amiable, which would you choose?' Not a fair question, you say. So thought my sister; but when pressed for answer she replied: 'I would marry neither of them unless I loved him beyond everybody else in the world. In that case I think I should want to help the Christian to overcome his hot temper. If I were to choose the pleasant, winsome, irreligious man, I should, by violating my own religious convictions and training, show him so inconsistent a Christian character myself, that I could hardly hope to draw him to my Savior, and I should very likely lose my own warmth and zeal in Christian duty.' Shall I decide then that, first of all, my daughter's choice should be, or mine for her, a truly Christian man, one whose life and talents and property, if he has any, are consecrated to his Master. He must not be morose or quick tempered or selfish. He must be well educated, warm-hearted, sympathetic and amiable. He should honor his Master by a cheerful face."

Certainly then the man I would choose for my daughter, if I were so fortunate as to have a daughter, must standard in matrimonial matters no state law will likely be able to force them to accept a standard they do not want. Marriage is largely a matter of custom and sentiment. A marriage which in one age of the country and in one locality would be considered proper in others would be considered barbarous. This is true at the present time in the United States today and public sentiment regulates these matters. While a higher degree of civilization in one portion of the country might demand one standard of marriage requirements it is a far different matter for this portion of the country to insist that all the rest of the country accept its standard, although perhaps it is the only correct standard. The marriage relation and all that concerns it must be kept as close to the people of the several states as possible. The purpose of it all will be possible with a pure people and with a pure people only.

THERE MAY BE FUN

IN LIVINGSTON COUNTY BEFORE THE "PRIMARY TICKET" WINS.

Says the Benton Tribune: The political situation in Livingston county is growing warmer than that which characterized the recent Democratic primary. Some Democrats are dissatisfied over the result, and the same blood curdling feeling exists between this and the Landrum factions.

The result of the primary was altogether unsatisfactory to many. The Cumberland river divides Livingston county, and although the north side has the largest vote, she didn't get a taste in the recent primary. In other words, no "plums" fell on the north side of the river. The north side claim that the Smithland, or the south side of the river "clique" get all the offices, to say nothing of their being defeated in getting the county court house centrally located in the county a few years ago. The Republicans and independents Democrats have decided to hold a mass convention in Smithland in April and nominate a county ticket as well as a candidate for representative.

The state for county offices is made up as follows: County judge, Kit Kendall, Smithland; Wm. Bishop, Carversville, sheriff; Frank Coffey, Driskill precinct, county clerk; Harman Sedberry, Smithland, county attorney; M. L. Mayhugh, Smithland, jailer.
The contest for county offices in Livingston when the two tickets are arrayed against each other promises to be one more exciting than ever. It is openly asserted by the enemies of Landrum that he will be beaten for county clerk by the fusion ticket.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CARRIED TOO FAR.

THE FEAR OF BEING DECEIVED OR HUMBLED PREVENTS MANY PEOPLE FROM TRYING A GOOD MEDICINE.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure, that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such people pride themselves on their astuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made for a remedy so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary patent medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine; no secret is made of the ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin (government test) Golden Seal and dillanase. They are not cathartic neither do they act powerfully on any particular organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten, thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they not only on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals, digests the food. That is all there is to it. Food, not digested, or half digested, is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles, which are often called by some other name. They are sold by druggists everywhere in the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

Miss Elizabeth Shifer, a miser, 93 years of age, at Hagerstown, Md., the other night, went down into her cellar to count her treasure, upset the lamp and was burned to death. The most miserable part of the transaction was that the treasure, which consisted of United States bonds, was burned with her.

Many of the blotches, pimples and other affections of the skin are caused by the failure of the liver and kidneys to cast off impurities, which remain in the system. HERBINE will stimulate the liver and kidneys, and cleanse the system of all impurities. Price 50 cents. DuBois & Co.

TRUE NOBLENESS.

For this true nobleness I seek in vain, In woman and in man I find it not; I almost weary of my earthly lot, My life springs are dried up with burning pain.

Thou findest it not? I pray thee, look again— Look inward, through the depths of thine own soul, How is it with thee? Art thou sound and whole? Doth narrow search show thee no earthly stain? Be noble and the nobleness that lies In other men, sleeping, but never dead, Will rise in majesty to meet thine own: Then wilt thou see it gleam in many eyes, Then wilt light around thy path be shed, And thou wilt nevermore be sad and lone.

—James Russell Lowell.

WOMAN IN EPIGRAM.

The woman who is resolved to be respected can make herself to be so, even amid an army of soldiers.—Cervantes.

A woman's preaching is like a dog's walking on his hind legs. It is not done well, but you are surprised to find it done at all.—Johnson.

Woman's power is over the affections. A beautiful dominion is hers, but she risks its forfeiture when she seeks to extend it.—Bovee.

No man knows what the wife of his bosom is—no man knows what a ministering angel is—until he has gone with her through the fiery trials of this world.—Washington Irving.

If you would make a pair of good shoes take for the sole the tongue of a woman; it never wears out.—Alsatian Proverb.

The highest mark of esteem a woman can give a man is to ask his friendship, and the most signal proof of her indifference is to offer him hers.—Anonymous.

Men bestow compliments only on women who deserve none.—Bach.

It is difficult for a woman to keep a secret; and I know more than one man who is a woman.—Lafontaine.

WORDS OF WISE MEN.

My life is for itself, and not for a spectacle. What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Poetry is the breath and finer spirit of all knowledge; it is the impassioned expression which is the countenance of all science.—Wordsworth.

Examples would, indeed, be excellent things were not people so modest that none will follow them.—Augustus Hare.

In youth, grief comes with a rush and overflows, but dries up, too, like the torrent. In the winter of life it remains like a miserable pool, resisting all evaporation.—Madame Swetchine.

A good man is the best friend, and therefore soonest to be chosen, for to be retained, and, indeed, never to be parted with, unless he cease to be that for which he was chosen.—Jeremy Taylor.

Anger is the most important passion that accompanies the mind of man; it affects nothing it goes about, and hurts the man who is possessed by it more than any other against whom it is directed.—Clarendon.

I never could believe that Providence had sent a few men into the world ready booted and spurred to ride, and a million ready saddled and bridled to be ridden.—Richard Rumbold, on the scaffold, 1685.

True progress is the increase of the number of individuals who detach themselves from the inorganic mass of mankind, and develop their physical and moral qualities to the full extent of which they are capable under the conditions in which God has placed us.—Bayle St. John.

"There is nothing," says Plato, "so delightful as the hearing or speaking of truth." For this reason there is no conversation so agreeable as that of the man of integrity, who hears without any intention to betray and speaks without any intention to deceive.—Addison.

Here's a record breaker for the railroads to "buck" against. The official report shows that three million three hundred and two thousand nine hundred and eighteen passengers were carried on steamboats on the Ohio river and its tributaries during the year 1900. Only two of this great number lost their lives by falling overboard, and eight otherwise.

Thirty-four new steamboats were added to the Ohio and tributary river service, and twelve went out of existence.

During the fiscal year ending October 31, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company shipped south in the neighborhood of 65,000,000 bushels of coal, while the total mined was about 185,000,000 bushels. Since navigation opened this season the same company has shipped close to 30,000,000 bushels, which is almost half as much as the company shipped in 1900. If there is a good stage of water up until June, to enable the shipment of coal boats as well as barges, the company will probably market 100,000,000 bushels of coal in the south.

The Joe Fowler, from Evansville, arrived and departed on time this morning with good business in and out.

The T. H. Davis departed for Ashland, on Cumberland river, yesterday afternoon. She will bring out a big tow if the river does not get too low for her to come out with it. Bill Gupton went out as her pilot.

Business was very good on the wharf today. River still falling. Cloudy and raining at intervals, southeast wind.

The Pittsburg coal combine have let contracts for building seven big powerful towboats, work commencing in early spring.

The Alice Brown, with a big tow of empties, passed up for Pittsburg this morning.

The Dick Fowler cleared for Cairo on time this morning with a good trip.

The City of Clifton is receiving a big trip for Tennessee river. She leaves at 5 p. m. Capt. Jim Till, in command and Eugene Robinson, first clerk and Tub Edmundson, second.

Sam B. Smith, who several years ago was a steamboat clerk on several of the packets running in and out of this port, has the largest collection of

RAILROAD NEWS.

Mr. William A. Kellond, of Louisville, assistant general passenger agent of the Illinois Central, has returned from a trip south. He went on the new Florida flyer which the Illinois Central put on a few days ago between Chicago and Jacksonville. The new train service is very fine and is being well patronized.

J. M. Eley, an Illinois Central switchman, fell against a chair while playing pool yesterday and cut a painful gash in his head.

The train due at 1:30 a. m. from Memphis was delayed five hours this morning by a wreck on the Illinois Central, near Jackson, Miss. A freight train at Gillman, Miss., was derailed and seventeen freight cars were piled in a cut. None was hurt, but all trains had to be moved over the Natchez division of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road.

Mr. C. G. Shepherd was checked in as day ticket agent at the Illinois Central depot this morning, to succeed Mr. G. B. Thomas, who may accept a position in the telegraph department.

A private car with officials of the International Mexican railroad, was attached to the train from Memphis this morning, en route from Mexico to New York.

Auditor Titus, of the Illinois Central, was in the city today on business.

BIG EXAMINATION.

MOST APPLICANTS FOR COUNTY SCHOOL CERTIFICATES IN SOME TIME.

The county schools are closing rapidly, and will probably all be over by the end of this month.

County Superintendent J. W. Hughes will hold the semi-annual examination for county school certificates at the county court house here on Thursday, January 31st, and there will be about twenty-five applicants for the examination. This is the most in quite a while.

THE SUPERVISORS.

THEY WILL PARTIALLY FINISH BY TOMORROW EVENING.

The supervisors of the county tax books will finish the first part of their work tomorrow and adjourn for the customary five days. They will then reconvene to hear protests from those whose assessment has been raised.

A suit of A. B. Carroll against E. M. Willett, for $40 damages, was left open until Monday by Justice Barber yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff claims he bought a horse from the defendant for $80 on condition that it was sound and gentle, which he claims it has proved not to be.

THE KNITTING MILL MACHINERY.

Mr. W. H. McClellan, of New Orleans, one of the Knitting mill projectors, is here with several of his men to put in the machinery when it arrives. Some of it was shipped from New Orleans last week.

WAITING ON THE COUNCIL.

The board of health met in President W. T. Graves' office yesterday afternoon, but as the council has not passed on the health officer salary matter, the board transacted no business.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETS.

The Paducah Medical and Surgical society meets tonight with Dr. Della Caldwell, the secretary, who will read a paper on "Tuberculosis."

STAGE NOTES.

Yvette Guilbert has been very ill, but is recovering. She has been occupying a villa at Vaux overlooking the Seine. In private life Mlle. Guilbert is Mme. Schiller.

It is expected now that the company of the Theater Francaise will be able to perform in its new house some time in December, several months earlier than expected.

Miss Evelyn Millard, the favorite London actress, is said to meditate the production of a series of the Shakespearean comedies in a London theater, under her own management.

The performance of Hauptman's "The Weavers" having been forbidden in Vienna, the piece was presented in Presburg, but failed to make much impression or attract a crowd. The experiment, in a word, was a failure.

George "Tad" has secured control of the historic Adelphi theater, in London, the home of melodrama, and will renovate it and redecorate it. As to his policy there, nothing has been divulged, though his particular field is not what we call melodrama, but musical farce.

"The Wedding Guest," produced by Arthur Boucher at the London Criterion, is not a new play by Barrie, but an old one, as yet unacted. It used to be called "Two Men and a Woman," and was announced long ago in London by both George Alexander and Cyril Maude and in New York City by Charles Frohman. Mr. Boucher has the London rights to the new Pinero play, held in New York by Daniel Frohman.
